'With immune booster, you can live without illness'

By AZOMA CHIKWE
Tuesday, June 20, 2006

With two enriching drugs, Plant Enzymes and Sterol Max, your health problems are over. Revealing this to Daily Sun, Specialist Gynecologist, Dr Gabriel Akilo of Good Tidings Specialist Hospital, Surulere, Lagos, said he has monitored and proved the two drugs for some years. He asserted that with the two drugs, one can live above sicknesses and diseases.

He said that the immune-boosters, which are produced in America and registered by NAFDAC, are natural products that can restore people's health and put smiles on their faces. Akilo revealed that Plant Enzymes is good for HIV/AIDS, arthritis, inflammations, diabetes mellitus, viral and bacterial infection, weight problem, chronic fatigue, aging, circulatory diseases and tuberculosis, while Sterol Max is good for HIV/AIDS, rheumatoid arthritis, hepatitis C, cancer (breast, Colon, prostate) and bronchitis.

Akilo stated further that Plant Enzymes was specially formulated to raise T-cell activity and production, stimulate the immune system, break up cholesterol deposits and eliminate waste and toxins from the body, while Sterol Max is said to enhance the ability of T-cells in body defences and regulates B-cell imbalance.

According to him, these products are breakthroughs in the treatment and management of HIV/AIDS and other degenerative diseases.

Immune boosters

The two products are immune boosters. The first one is Sterol Max and the second one, Plant Enzyme. These are all food supplements containing things like soya beans and all the minerals that are destroyed in the food during cooking before we eat them. It has been observed that immunity of an average individual has reduced in the last few years and this decade especially because most of the plants and fruits our parents ate fresh or raw are no longer available these days and even when available are no longer eaten fresh or raw. We over-cook them and kill all the vitamins and minerals. That is why the immunity in people has generally reduced.

So, these immune boosters contain these food supplements that are not available in the food we eat nowadays because in this part of the world, we over-cook our food and destroy all the essential vitamins and minerals that are necessary for boosting our immunity. What the producer has done is to do a thorough research and put all the enzymes that are usually destroyed, like maltose, galactose and all the other necessary enzymes, vitamins and minerals that are destroyed during cooking and put them in these two products.

These two products have been tested around the world. The producer, Dr Schneider, was nominated for Nobel Prize because of the efficacy and usefulness of these two food supplements. In this part of the world, since we launched it two years ago, we have received wonderful testimonies about the drugs. And because of the way people rushed it, we ran out of stock, but recently, we received a fresh batch from the makers in United States.

Concerning HIV/AIDS, I want to state that these immune boosters are not antiretrovirals. They are food supplements. They contain things that boost our immunity. Many people suffering from HIV have benefitted from these drugs because they boosted their immunity. Many people living with HIV taking these drugs usually see much improvement in their health and some have asked me if they should stop taking their antiretrovirals because of the efficacy of these drugs. I told them they don't need to stop their antiretroviral treatment because once you start taking antiretrovirals you can't stop it or the person may develop resistance to it.

Those taking these immune boosters alongside their antiretrovirals are doing better healthwise than their colleagues and have shown better improvement in general well-being. In fact, some of them told me they became more sexually active after they started using the drugs. There is a particular man living with HIV from Port Harcourt who told me that having sex with his wife was a big problem because his libido was at its lowest ebb until he started using his drug.

The drug revived his sex life. And because he has not been having sex with the wife for a long time, he did not tell the wife he is HIV positive. When his sex life was revived, he asked me if he should tell his wife he is HIV positive and I said yes. Unfortunately, the wife was also positive and they are both taking the immune booster and they are doing well.

They are also useful for asthma and other conditions that have to do with immunity, like respiratory infections and even sexually transmitted diseases. It is not as if it prevents sexually transmitted diseases, but when people have immunity, it can help them.

I don't give the drug to pregnant women because there is no single indication on the drug for them. But for the elderly or aged, many of them benefit much from the drug. Many of my patients buy it for their aging parents and it is helping them much. The Sterol Max in particular is useful for arthritis. If a child has HIV or any immune deficiency sickness, he can benefit from the drug.

There are no side-effects, no over-dose. When Dr Schneider came to Nigeria, and we were testing the drugs, he took six tablets himself at a time. It is just like food, there is no side effect, there is no overdose, if anything it improves your digestive system and supplies minerals and vitamins missing in your food. They are NAFDAC-approved.

The raw materials for the products include soyabeans, wheat, oilseed, barley, African sun flower and so many other things. They are natural food products. They are non-toxic, just things from plants that we eat. The drugs are made in America and used extensively all over the world.
